ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Rev. Andrew Matthews was born in Melbourne, Australia and moved to Houston, Texas when he was seven.

Andrew became a Christian when he was 21 during university. After a brief career as a Bond Trader he accepted the call to ministry at the age of 25 while a Southern Baptist. Andrew trained at the Reformed Theological Seminary in Jackson Mississippi and later moved to the Presbyterian Church of America in 2002.

His wife Eleanor, who also has Australian parents, married Andrew in 2002 and currently have no children. Andrew and Eleanor moved to Melbourne in November 2003 to serve with Scots Church Melbourne and St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church in Flemington where Andrew is the pastor. He also serves as the missionary with the Scots and Presbyterian Joint Mission.

His main hobbies are sports and construction work. Andrew loves playing tennis, volleyball, soccer, basketball, skiing, surfing and almost any other sport. He also enjoys carpentry and renovation work in homes and dreams some day of completely renovating his own house. Andrew also loves travelling and learning foreign languages. Eleanor is also very athletic and is a puppy-carer for Seeing Eye Dogs of Australia. Andrew hopes to do a free fall sky-dive before he dies, but not on the same day. Eleanor wants to live in Antarctica for some unknown reason!
